

THE ROLE OF THE CHURCH IN COMBATING
HIV/AIDS MENACE IN YOUTHS

MBTS
M.Div.
Eze 31-r

A Thesis Presented To The Faculty of The Nigerian Baptist

Theological seminary, Ogbomoso.

In Partial Fulfillment of The Requirements for the Degree of Master of Divinity (M.Div.)

By

Godwin S.O. Ezeali

June 2003

07 — 0069

ABSTRACT

This study, "The Role of The Church In Combating HIV/AIDS Menace in Youths" is an attempt to challenge the church on her strategic position to make a meaningful contribution in combating HIV/AIDS, especially among youths. It is the belief of this work that the solution to HIV/AIDS menace is in the hands of the Church and Faith Based Organizations (FBO),

This research is prepared in five chapters. Chapter one is introductory while Chapter two deals with information on HIV/AIDS. Chapter three ex-rayed the life of the youth, why they act the way they do and their view about HIV/AIDS. What the church has done, is doing and can do is reviewed in Chapter four and the last Chapter (five) dealt with conclusion and recommendation.